BRIBERY TRIAL AT COLUMBUS

Arguments Opened This Morning by Atty-Gen. Hogan

SCATHING DENUNCIATION

By Prosecution Followed by Attorney Connor for Accused State Senator.

Columbus, March 13. — Opening arguments for the state and the defense were heard at the morning session of the trial of State Senator L. R. Andrews for the alleged acceptance of a $200 bribe, today. The prosecution was opened by Attorney General Hogan, who scathingly arraigned the senator as a bribe taker, who "was a menace to the republic who was a menace to the republican government."

Arguments of the defense were opened by Attorney Connor with invectives against the testimony of Frank Harrison Smiley, the Barnes detective who operated the alleged trapping of Senator Andrews into accepting money for his senate vote, and attacked the testimony of the dictagraph.

Immediately after the opening of court Attorney General Hogan began, saying there were but two interested witnesses as to the outcome of the Andrews trial. "These two witnesses," he cried, "are Senator Andrews and the state of Ohio, not represented by its attorneys, but the state itself." Ripping sarcasm and irony against the defendant caused the attention of the court to be held to him.

Beginning with the visit of Andrews to the hotel where the alleged money was said to have changed hands, Mr. Hogan said: "This visit was not a reasonable nor a usual one." Mr. Hogan commented on the fact that when Andrews made the trip to the hotel he was accompanied by State Senator Crawford and neglected to introduce Crawford to Harrison. "If Mr. Andrews was honest in his pursuit, would he not have introduced Mr. Crawford? But he was not honest in his pursuit and did not want to introduce him. His way was by stealth and by silence."

Referring to the other legislators indicted in the bribery scandal exposed with Andrews, Mr. Hogan demanded to know if Andrews were innocent, if he would not have called them to the stand to testify.

"Where is the testimony of Senator Cetone, Senator Huffman and Diegel. Why did they not come forward? They were afraid to come. They hoped by the logic and influence of the lawyers to shadow them. They hoped to escape."

Turning his attention to the note which Andrews is supposed to have written Smiley, he said: "There is more eloquence in that note than there is in all the lawyers in the state."

In opening for the defense, Attorney Connor declared that Andrews had never received a dollar from Harrison; that the dictagraph never recorded the conference attributed to it, for it never took place, and that the dictagraph at that time could not record the conversation.

ELEVEN MEN ESCAPE.

Bluefield, W. Va., March 12. — Eleven prisoners sentenced to work on the roads of McDowell county for pistol "toting" escaped from a convict camp near Welch, W. Va., and have not been captured. Seven were white and four negroes.

FORMER OHIOAN NEAR DEATH.

Xenia, O., March 13. — John P. Martin of Washington, D. C., former member of the state board of public works, prominently known in Ohio and the east, is at the point of death of multiple neuritis at Wilson Hospital here. He was taken ill while on business here.

IMPROVEMENT TO PROTECT AN ABUTMENT

The action of the currents in the North Fork of the Licking at the waterworks pumping station has eaten away a large portion of the east bank of the stream, just south of the bridge. Service Director McCarthy has caused a large number of piles to be driven into the creek bed and had this reinforced with stone to protect the bank and the bridge abutment. The improvement cost about $300.

HON. W. J. BRYAN LECTURED TO IMMENSE AUDIENCE AT M. E. CHURCH TUESDAY EVE.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS FROM LECTURE

I would rather be defeated all my life in a democracy than to be elected king of a monarchy. The Judge who fears the recall is not fit to sit on the bench. The democratic spirit (without reference to the party) is becoming so large that no party is big enough to control it. Lincoln was the nation's second greatest democrat, Thomas Jefferson being the first. The evidences of the world's moral advancement is more pronounced than of its intellectual progress.

William Jennings Bryan, the Nebraska statesman, mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for the presidency this fall, lectured last night to an immense audience at the First M. E. church, under the auspices of the Christian Men's Union. His lecture was "The Passing of Plutocracy," and the speaker held the close attention of his audience for two hours.

Previous to the lecture at the church, Mr. Bryan was the honor guest at a luncheon given to the pastors of the city and the advisory committee of the Christian Men's Union at the Y. M. C. A. He also made a short talk to the men, in which he spoke of the great organization of men which has taken place in the past few years.

The eminent guest was late in reaching the city and did not arrive until nearly 7 o'clock. The luncheon at the "Y" made him late at the church and the big audience waited until 8.20 for the speaker to appear, when he was greeted with a storm of applause.

At the church the speaker was introduced by Rev. L. C. Sparks as "the most distinguished citizen of the American republic."

Mr. Bryan stated that the object in presenting this lecture was to show that the trend of events in the world is for man's elevation. He declared that in the past the ages had been marked by the struggle between man and man.

He said that man was the handiwork of God, while money was the handiwork of man, and that in all things God's work comes first. He dwelt upon the reforms of the past few decades, of the difficulties that confronted reformers; that he proposed to show what the world was doing in the way of reforms, that those interested might feel encouraged.

He did not deal with the fanatical movements which have created dissension, but dwelt upon the more substantial activities which have had a world-wide significance.

The speaker declared that the events showed wonderful advancement along intellectual, moral and political lines. He showed by recent events where his statements were substantiated that every year people were learning to read and write; that with this increase in knowledge was a step toward moral improvement and that with the two came a betterment of political conditions.

He detailed his trip a year or more

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN PLAN HARMONY FEED

Mrs. OSCAR UNDERWOOD, wife of the majority leader in the House of Representatives, is one of the women who are arranging a harmony banquet to be held in Washington on Monday, May 20, the natal day of Dolly Madison, and which is to be attended by the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Democratic chiefs, past and present.

ago through South America, and told of his observations there. He showed the advancement made by the South American republics along educational and political lines and declared that the evidences of the world's moral advancement were more pronounced than in intellectual progress.

He created a laugh when he told of the two greatest moral movements which were exchanged by England and America. He said the Christian Endeavor Societies were originated in America and exported to England, while England started the Y. M. C. A. movement and it was imported by America. "I am glad to find some imports and exports that can come through the customs house without suffering from the high tariff," he remarked.

Supporting his statement that the United States was leading the world in moral, intellectual and political progress, he called attention to the growing popularity of the proposed movement for the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people. He pronounced this the greatest political forward movement of recent years.

It was at this point that he declared that the democratic spirit which was apparent in the country was so vast that no party could control it—that it would control all parties.

He spoke of a resolution recently introduced, which was amended to read that "the president be requested to announce on whose recommendation candidates were nominated for judgeships."

In speaking of the recall, he said that it was better to risk an occasional mistake of the people in exercising their right of recall, than to place the man in office beyond the reach of the people. He said that the judge who feared to perform his duty to the people, because of the recall, was not fit to sit on the bench.

In a brief talk at the Y. M. C. A., following the luncheon, Mr. Bryan stated that his travels had given him an opportunity to get in close touch with the masses. That everywhere he went he found evidences of great moral advancement. He spoke of the "tie that binds" hears in Christian love being the strongest of any of the ties. He declared that there was no barrier that it could not remove.

He told of his travels through the Orient and of the sincerity of the Japanese and Chinese Christians.

He declared that the advancement in China had been more rapid since the Boxer movement than ever before. He said that there was every indication that the skeptical period was vanishing.

In speaking of the great Brotherhood movements which are now sweeping the world, he declared that they had been proposed years ago by Gladstone and others, and that this was the men's part of Christian work.

TO TEST WOMAN'S SANITY

Threatened to Kill Wealthy Banker for Imagined Grievance

WERE NEAR NEIGHBORS

But Had Never Met—Woman Had Family Tree Printed and Distributed.

Washington, March 13. — Mrs. Harley Calvin Gage, aged 57, who lives with her daughter in Dupont Circle, the most exclusive residence section of the city, was sent to the government hospital for the insane last night because of alleged threats to kill Charles J. Bell, a wealthy banker and a cousin of Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor.

Mrs. Gage told a number of persons recently that she would kill Bell "and hang for it," because he had been instrumental in keeping her daughter, Margaret, and herself out of society.

When the threats first were brought to the attention of Mr. Bell he paid no attention to them, but it is said Mrs. Gage became so persistent recently that Mrs. Bell became worried and insisted that her husband take some action.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Gage held a conference with the superintendent of police over her alleged difficulties with Mr. Bell and she was advised to make no further threats. Last week she is said to have told a number of friends that she intended to carry out her former threats.

When those statements were brought to the attention of Mrs. Bell she induced her husband to have Mrs. Gage arrested. She was taken into custody yesterday afternoon, charged with "threat to kill" and held under $1,000 bail.

She will be kept at the asylum for 30 days, and if the medical authorities do not declare her sane she will be taken before a marshal's jury to have her sanity tested. If the marshal's jury decides she is insane she will go back to the asylum, and if she is acquitted of insanity she will be tried on the charge of threat to kill.

The Gages and Bells are neighbors but Mr. Bell said today he had never been introduced to the widow.

The Gages came to Washington from New Jersey about eight years ago and purchased the Dupont Circle house. Margaret was put to school at the most exclusive seminary in the city. They were unknown in the city at that time, but Mrs. Gage established herself in the winter colony of millionaires. She did not appear to have enough money to meet the demands of the hostesses of the wealthy set.

Shortly after she made her home here she caused a family tree to be compiled. Her family and that of her husband were traced back to Charlemagne and to several Spanish kings. This was printed in little booklets, which were mailed to the members of the smart set, with her calling cards. This was just before her daughter was scheduled to make her debut.

Mother and daughter were always seen at the White House receptions and at other semi-public affairs, but the doors of the exclusive did not swing open to them.

Margaret Gage has been seen considerably in one of the sets which comprise the diplomatic circle. Immediately after the arrest Miss Gage sent the following telegram for her mother to her uncle, Windom Mott, district attorney of Newark, N. J.: "Come at once or send assistance. I am in the house of detention at Washington."

"Why she picked me out as the cause of her troubles I have never been able to find out," said Bell last night. "I have never had any dealings with her, either socially or financially."

CONVICT'S SLASH COMRADE. Mansfield, O., March 13. — Intent upon killing Frank Taylor, an Ashtabula inmate of the Ohio state reformatory, for some fancied wrong, and to avenge an insult, George Fletcher and William Jones, negro inmates, sentenced from Hamilton county, followed him into his cell and seriously slashed him. Taylor will recover.

SLAYER ELECTROCUTED. Trenton, N. J., March 13. — Mary Ann Heilene was electrocuted at the New Jersey state prison last night for the murder of two Italians at Perth Amboy. He died protesting his innocence.

MAY OUST DELEGATE DOTY FROM CHAIR---WOULD ABOLISH STATE CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Columbus O., March 13.—Protests against the methods of Delegate E. W. Doty of Cuyahoga county in recessing the convention until this morning resulted in a technical session with another recess until 1.00 p. m. today. Miram D. Peck of Hamilton county and others objected and said that if Doty interfered with the work of the convention during the initiative and referendum debate he would have him ousted from the chair. He called attention to the new rule providing for the convention hours of session, for he declared the morning was needed for committee work.

Pointing out that Delegate Kerr, who had moved the recess yesterday left out the time purposely with the understanding that the recess be until the regular time.

The legislative and executive committee today adopted a proposition to impeach judges before the supreme court. The proposal would add a new impeachment clause to the old constitution which simply provides that the state officials can be suspended on two-thirds of that body. Under the new proposition five attorneys or ten citizens may bring charges against a judge before the supreme court which must give an impartial hearing to him. As in other cases the judge can be impeached on misconduct or misdemeanor.

Recommendations were made for the abolition of capital punishment in Ohio. The judicial committee determined on the proposition with a unanimous vote. Amendments to the proposal which was recently passed took away from homicide the right to bail with the proposal of keeping such persons in jail until convicted. The committee discussed the proposal of the abolition of monetary fines for all crimes and misdemeanors and provides jail sentences. The sentiment of the convention is almost unanimous in favor of the proposal. But the members of the committee are unable to arrive at a conclusion as to how the imprisonment should be governed or how exceptions should be made.

The constitutional convention now in session may determine that this shall be the last to ever amend the organic law of the state. The committee on method of amendment to enter entered on a plan for the future changing of the state constitution by a small commission which shall prepare the amendment and submit it for approval or rejection.

ROBBERY WAS BLOCKED BY MESSENGER

San Antonio, Texas, March 13. — David A. Trosdale, an express messenger, blocked the robbery of an express train near San Antonio early today, by trapping the highwaymen and killing them. The robbers boarded train No. 9, west bound, a few miles from here. The mail and express cars were detached from the passenger coaches, and the engineers, under the cover of the robbers' gun, was compelled to run the two coaches ahead of the train.

One robber took the express messenger back to the express train, while the other guarded the train. The state express boxes Trosdale employed the old ruse of signaling to an imaginary person back of him and when the robber turned Trosdale grabbed a mallet and dashed out the robber's brains before he could fire. Then, aiming himself with the dead robber's gun, he awaited the return of the other bandit. After rifling the car the second robber returned to the coach, where Trosdale shot him. All the stolen property was recovered.

NEW RULE IS ADOPTED BY THE MAYOR

Mayor Swartz has announced the adoption of a new rule regarding the trial of cases in his court. Hereafter he will not hold any conferences with the attorneys in the cases being tried before him, regarding the merits of the case, and that he will receive no statements from the attorneys except those made in open court. Mayor Swartz states that he feels that he can better administer justice in such cases if there are no such conferences.

CLASH OF BIG OCEAN STEAMERS

Narrow Escape for Scores of Passengers and Ships' Crews

CAME TOGETHER IN FOG

Coolness of Officers Prevented a Panic—Impact Sounded Like Discharge of Artillery.

New York, March 13.—Outward bound, with scores of passengers and crew aboard, the steamer City of Savannah was crashed into late yesterday afternoon near the entrance to Ambrose Channel by the in-bound Clyde freighter Navaho.

Both ships had a close call from going to the bottom. They lurched into port an hour apart last night, each with a jagged hole in her bow, and battered and dented, were wedged into adjoining piers.

The collision was head on, and according to Captain T. L. Dreyer of the City of Savannah, and his passengers, the fault lay entirely with the man at the helm of the Navaho. Feeling her way out to sea in the thick fog the City of Savannah was moving at half speed into Ambrose Channel, where the Navaho loomed. "As the lengths ahead steaming a diagonal course as if to cut across the seaway."

It was then close to 5 o'clock. Captain Dreyer sounded two blasts of his whistle to indicate that he would continue in his course and pass the Navaho on the starboard side. He got no response, and the next minute the Navaho's nose-sharp bow was crunching into the starboard bow of the City of Savannah.

The impact sounded through the fog like a discharge of artillery. Then followed the shrieking of fog whistles, the cries of passengers on the liner, and the bellowing commands of the officers on the two ships.

Engines were quickly reversed and the two ships backed away, the Navaho showing a jagged wound in her bow 15 feet across, while the City of Savannah's steel bow was curved in like cardboard and opened in a ragged cut for 20 feet.

Fortunately both ships had been hit above the water line. Both keeled over from the force of the collision, shipping considerable water in the movement.

Panic was stayed among the passengers on the City of Savannah by the prompt action of her officers, and for safety's sake the ship was slowly swung around and her battered nose turned back toward New York.

The sputter of her wireless telegraph instrument carried the first news of the collision through the harbor fog to the Savannah Line agents in New York. On the heels of that message came a megaphone call from Captain Parker of the Navaho, asking the City of Savannah to relay a message to the Clyde agent for immediate tug escort. Parker's notion then being that his ship had been vitally hurt.

Tugs were hurried down the bay. In the meantime, however, rapid surveys had been taken of the two ships, and with collision bulkheads fastened down they both began the crawl back home.

Under her own steam, but with a watchful tug beside her, the Navaho made her way steadily up the bay and at 6:55 p. m. was docked, her agents immediately thereafter interdicting any statement from the master of the ship and declining to furnish any statement of the cause of the collision.

An hour later the City of Savannah, steaming on an even keel under her own power, but also escorted by a tug, crept out of the fog and rain and within 15 minutes was warped into her pier.

Captain Dreyer, as soon as his ship had been made fast, came ashore and filed a report of the accident with his agents. In a statement later he said: "We didn't hit her; she hit us. We were proceeding at half speed on the east side of the channel. We were directly opposite Buoy No. 23, near the entrance of Ambrose Channel. He was in the channel coming up. He lay across the channel and didn't shut his helm."

"I gave him two whistles that I would pass him on the starboard hand, and at the same time I put my wheel hard to starboard. He made no answer."

CHARGED WITH SELLING OPIUM

Cleveland, March 13.—Wah Hing, a Chinese, was bound over to the federal grand jury here before United States Commissioner Walters on a charge of selling opium. He was arrested in a raid last night.

LIMITED JUMPS TRACK INJURING FOUR PEOPLE

Hyde Park, N. Y., March 13.—The second section of the Twentieth Century Limited of the New York Central, bound for New York, jumped the track, throwing four of the passenger coaches into the river below, partly submerging them. No one was killed and four passengers were only slightly injured. The train was running at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred.

MUST KEEP STREET CLEAR IS NEW ORDER

Orders issued last night from the department of public safety were carried to the officials of the Ohio Electric railroad company, notifying them that they must keep their freight trucks out of the streets and alleys when not in use. W. H. Burrell was also notified that any rigs left in the street after dark, must be protected by red lanterns. Complaint has been made that the thoroughfare in East Church street, between Hudson avenue and Second street is blocked most of the time with rigs in the front of the livery stable, interrupting freight cars and trucks and wagons loading and unloading freight. The department is seeking to relieve the situation to a certain extent.

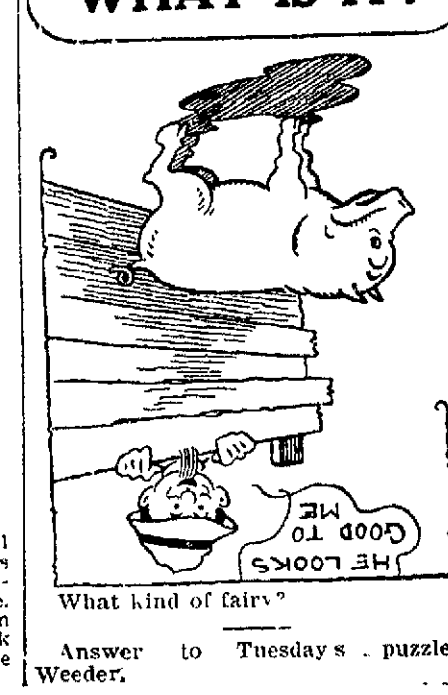

LAWRENCE STRIKE ENDS TOMORROW

Lawrence, Mass., March 13.—That the Lawrence textile strike will end tomorrow was the prediction made today by local strike leaders.

The demand of the strikers for a 15 per cent increase has been met by a proposition from the American Woolen Company for presentation to the delegates from the different organizations of the operatives.

It is said that the delegates will be practically unanimous for submission of the wage scale to the strikers as a body.

The "CURE" worse than the DISEASE

Mercury and potash will sometimes dry up or temporarily remove the outward evidences of Contagious Blood Poison and sufferers are misled into the belief that the disease has been cured. These deluded victims soon find, however, that the "cure" is worse than the disease, that not only has the virus been all the while more thoroughly saturating the blood, but the strong mineral medicine has likewise been undermining the system and breaking down the health.

The truth about Mercury and Potash is that these minerals cannot cure Contagious Blood Poison, and when the treatment is left off the smouldering infection rouses itself into the old destructive flame and every symptom of the disease returns with increased virulence. What was at first a tiny sore or pimple becomes an ulcerous place, the mouth and throat grow raw and tender, glands in the groin swell and form painful knots, brown spots appear on the skin, and frequently running sores and ulcers break out on the flesh.

Years upon years of failure is abundant proof that the mineral treatment is not a specific for Contagious Blood Poison. Physical wrecks from the use of Mercury and Potash are all around us and their experience should be a warning to others who may be suffering with this disease.

S. S. S., a purely vegetable remedy, IS a specific for Contagious Blood Poison. It is a medicine with the meritorious record of more than forty years of cures and one which in all that time has not acted harmfully upon a single system. S. S. S. is the greatest of all cures for Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes right down into the circulation and removes every particle of the virus and makes a perfect cure.

S. S. S. does not contain a particle of Mercury, Potash, or any other mineral but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks which strengthen and build up the stomach and digestive members while driving out the germs of disease. You do not take chances when you use S. S. S., but in doing so you are giving yourself the benefit of the very best treatment for Contagious Blood Poison.

S.S.S.

There is no "come back" when S. S. S. cures but there is always a perfect restoration to health and the assurance that the blood is once more pure and clean. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write and request it.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CLASH

(Continued from Page 1.) answer to our signal but came right on, and hit us on the starboard side, crumpling it in all of 10 feet and opening up a big gash a few feet above the water line.

"When I first saw him he was two ships' lengths away on my starboard bow. I had the forward compartment closed right away, so that we shipped little if any water. He backed away at once, and I had my ship turned and made my way slowly back, having sent a wireless for tugs for both ships and meeting my tug at Turk's Head."

In reply to a question as to the cause of the collision Captain Dreyer repeated that the Navahoe had disregarded his signal and run him down.

"I think it might have been avoided," he said.

All information as to the Clyde Liner's view of the collision was refused.

Of the two ships the Navahoe seemed to have sustained the greatest damage, for in addition to the big gash which opened in her bow, her port side was scraped and indented almost to amidship.

The City of Savannah, however, was so badly damaged as to be put out of commission for two weeks at least. She will be taken to dry docks for repairs today. The City of Columbia will take her place today and sail with the passengers and cargo of the City of Savannah at 2 o'clock.

Of the 13 cabin and 30 steerage passengers of the City of Savannah only half a dozen came ashore. The others remained on board and were transferred to the City of Columbia this morning.

The Navahoe carried one lone disgruntled passenger, Fred Flake, a civil engineer, who has been at work in the North Carolina mountains.

"I wonder what will happen to me next," mused Mr. Flake, who had scrambled ashore as soon as the Navahoe was made fast. "I have been on my back for 14 weeks from a knife wound received from a crazy black man in the mountains. This was my first rally out since the stabbing, and I ran into this."

FIRE AT CANTON

Canton, March 13.—Fire of unknown origin caused damages amounting to $10,000 to the Canton Home Furnishing company, building owned by Congressmen Whitcomb and today. The loss of the contents of the building is estimated at $25,000.

POCKET BILLIARDS THE PROPER THING

Chicago, Ill., March 13.—[Special.]—The word "pool" as applied to billiard tables and which has rioted women's clubs and divided church organizations throughout the country, has finally passed from American vernacular. The next revisers of dictionaries will omit the word and in its place substitute "Pocket Billiards," according to several hundred billiardroom keepers from all parts of the United States who assembled here today.

Simultaneously, it is shown from the coop the famous French hen which the billiardists declare, has caused all the trouble for more than a quarter of a century, and hereafter the hen will have to lay its eggs for other soils.

The reason for dragging the French hen into the trouble is not to be laid at its own coop door, but is the fault of the lexicographers who, because of the simple fact that French chickens are represented by a hen, have placed the word in its place.

TELEPHONE CASE HEARD BY THE CIRCUIT COURT

Matter of Granting An Injunction Taken Under Adversity. Court House News.

The case of the Gratiot and Brownsville Telephone Co. vs. the Brownsville Farmers' Telephone Co. was tried and submitted to the circuit court Wednesday. The petition is filed by the plaintiff company to enjoin the defendant company from carrying on the business of a telephone company without first having procured from the Public Utilities Commission of the state a certificate authorizing defendant to do a telephone business, and as to the reasonableness and necessity of a new competing company. The petition alleges that if defendant company is not restrained the business of the plaintiff will be greatly injured.

The court took the matter of granting an injunction under advisement.

Emma Spicer et al. vs. Christian Phillips et al., two cases; suits brought to set aside two deeds for property in Etina township, on the ground that the grantor did not have sufficient mental capacity to transact the business of making the deeds or to understand the character of her acts. The deeds were made by Phoebe Lonniss, now deceased. After a statement of the case to the court by counsel, application was made by defendants for leave to amend the answer. Leave was granted upon condition that costs should be paid within thirty days and the case was continued to the next term of court, which meets next fall.

Peouliar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition.

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys, which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles, which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as dreaded Bright's disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of the grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

AT THE SANITARIUM WITH SCALP WOUND

Jeff Davis, a former employee of the Ohio Rolling Mill, is still in the Sanitarium where he was taken Tuesday, following his attack upon Supt. B. W. Jones at the office of the plant.

Mr. Jones was seated in his office when Davis entered and without warning struck him with a bottle. Mr. Davis seized a cane and defended himself. He struck Davis over the head, inflicting a scalp wound.

Davis was taken to the Sanitarium where his injuries were dressed. He will be able to leave the institution in a few days.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN WILL ADVERTISE SCHOOL BONDS NEXT MEETING

Board of Education Making Preparations for Proposed New Buildings—Bonds to Bear Four Per Cent.

With the vote of the special election held Monday on the school bond proposition, certified to the proper officials the next step in the proposed improvement is the advertising of the bond sale.

At the next regular meeting of the school board, a resolution will be passed to issue bonds in the sum provided for at the special election. Then the bonds will be advertised for sale.

As soon as the architect finishes the plans and specifications for the three new buildings, the board may advertise for bids on the jobs.

Before the architect's plans are finished, it is desirable that the sites be selected for the three buildings, that the architect's plans may suit the location.

As yet the sites have not been selected. In the West End the board has a site in view but the negotiations have not been concluded and it may be necessary to bring condemnation proceedings in the probate court to get possession of the property.

In the North End the board is confronted with an aggravating proposition. Whether the building is located east or west of the railroad will have to be threshed out at the board meeting.

It is the desire of the board to locate the South Newark building on Fourth street or in that vicinity if a desirable site can be obtained at a reasonable figure.

The bonds will bear four per cent interest and the board anticipates no trouble in selling them. There is a demand for municipal bonds just now and Newark bonds have been particularly desirable.

It will probably be four weeks before the bonds are sold and if everything else is in readiness, the advertisement for bids must run four weeks, so it will be pretty close to May 1 before the contract is let if there are no unnecessary delays. It is not hoped to have any of the buildings in readiness for occupancy by the opening of the school year next September.

PREDICTS A STRIKE OF THE OHIO MINERS

Safety Director Wayne Collier went to Zanesville this afternoon where he has been called by the unsettled conditions among the Ohio miners. The miners have demanded an increase in the wage scale and declare that if the operators do not agree to this demand by the first of April that a general strike will be called throughout the coal fields affected.

Mr. Collier states that he doesn't anticipate any settlement between now and the first of the month and that he fully expects the strike will be called.

It is claimed that the stores which have been given general circulation that there will be a strike, have been started by the railroad interests who desire to keep the threatened strike quiet so they may get possession of the coal.

TASTE, SMELL AND HEARING RESTORED

A Simple, Harmless Remedy Quickly Relieves Catarrhal Deafness.

The thousands who suffer the miseries of colds and catarrh and claim they have never found a cure can get instant relief by simply anointing the nostrils with Ely's Cream Balm.

Unlike internal medicines which upset the stomach or strong snuffs which only aggravates the trouble, this cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm instantly reaches the seat of the trouble, stops the nasty discharge, clears the nose, eases and throat, and brings back the sense of taste, smell and improves hearing.

More than this, it strengthens the weakened and diseased tissues, thus protecting you against a return of the trouble. This remedy will cure a cold in a day, and prevent its becoming chronic or resulting in catarrh.

Nasal catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and cannot be reached by mixtures taken into the stomach, nor can it be cured by snuffs and powders which only cause additional irritation. Don't waste time on them. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and after using it for a day you will wish you had tried it sooner.

Mothers should give the children Ely's Cream Balm for colds and croup. It is perfectly harmless, and pleasant to take.

Assumes Position of Strict Neutrality

Washington, March 13.—United States government today assumed the position of strict neutrality and dealt a severe blow to the revolutionary cause in Mexico by adopting a measure to stop carrying of ammunition of war from this country into Mexico. Regretting to revise the present neutrality President Taft pointed out the inadequacy to the state foreign relations committee which returned to the capital and concurred to meet the situation. In effect the resolution prevents the shipping of arms or ammunition from any place in the United States to any American country where domestic violations are in existence. According to the Mexican ambassador this act strengthens the opinion that this country is friendly to her southern neighbors.

THE PRODIGAL JUDGE

CHAPTER XXIII.

The Judge Finds Allies.

They were interrupted by the opening of the door, and big Steve admitted Carrington and the two men of whom the sheriff had spoken.

"A shocking condition of affairs, Mr. Carrington!" said the judge by way of greeting.

"Yes," said Carrington shortly. "You left these parts some time ago, I believe?" continued the judge.

"The day before Norton was shot. I had started home for Kentucky. I heard of his death when I reached Randolph on the second bluff," explained Carrington, from whose cheeks the weather-beaten bloom had faded. He rested his hand on the edge of the desk and turned to the men who had followed him into the room. "This is the gentleman you wish to see," he said, and stepped to one of the windows; it overlooked the terraces where he had said good-by to Betty scarcely a week before.

The two men had paused by the door. They now advanced. One was gaunt and haggard, his face disfigured by a great red scar; the other was a shock-headed, individual who moved with a shambling gait. Both carried rifles and both were dressed in coarse homespun.

"Morning, sir," said the man with the scar. "Yancy's my name, and this gentleman 'lows he'd rather be known now as Mr. Cavendish."

The judge started at his feet.

"Bob Yancy?" he cried.

"Yes, sir, that's me." The judge passed nimbly around the desk and shook the Scratch Hiller warmly by the hand. "Where's my nevy, sir?—what's all this about him and Miss Betty?" Yancy's soft drawl was suddenly eager.

"Please God we'll recover him soon!" said the judge.

By the window Carrington moved impatiently. No harm could come to the boy, but Betty—a shudder went through him.

"They've stolen him." Yancy spoke with conviction. "I reckon they've started back to North Carolina with him—only that don't explain what's come of Miss Betty, does it?" and he dropped rather helplessly into a chair.

"Bob are just getting off a sick bed. He's been powerful poorly in consequence of having his head laid open and then being thrown into the Elk river, where I fished him out," explained Cavendish, who still continued to regard the judge with unmitigated astonishment, first cocking his shaggy head on one side and then on the other, his bleached eyes narrowed to a slit. Now and then he favored the austere Mahaffy with a fleeting glance. He seemed intuitively to understand the comradeship of their degradation.

"Mr. Cavendish fetched me here on his raft. We tied up to the sho' this morning. It was there we met Mr. Carrington—I'd knowed him slightly back yonder in North Carolina," continued Yancy. "He said I'd find Hannibal with you. I was counting a heap on seeing my nevy."

Carrington, no longer able to control himself, swung about on his heel. "What's been done?" he asked, with fierce repression. "What's going to be done? Don't you know that every second is precious?"

"I am about to conclude my investigations, sir," said the judge with dignity.

Carrington stepped to the door. After all, what was there to expect of these men? Whatever their interest, it was plainly centered in the boy. He passed out into the hall.

As the door closed on him the judge turned again to the Scratch Hiller.

"Mr. Yancy, Mr. Mahaffy and I hold your nephew in the tenderest regard; he has been our constant companion ever since you were lost to him. In this crisis you may rely upon us; we are committed to his recovery, no matter what it involves." The judge's tone was one of unalterable resolution.

"I reckon you-all have been mighty good and kind to him," said Yancy huskily.

"We have endeavored to be, Mr. Yancy—indeed I had formed the resolution legally to adopt him should you not come to claim him. I should have given him my name, and made him my heir. His education has already begun under my supervision," and the judge, remembering the high use to which he had dedicated one of Peggie's trade labels, fairly glowed with philanthropic fervor.

"Think of that!" murmured Yancy softly. He was deeply moved. So was Mr. Cavendish, who was gifted with a wealth of ready sympathy. He thrust out a hardened hand to the judge.

"Shake!" he said. "You're a heap better than you look." A thin ripple of laughter escaped Mahaffy, but the judge accepted Chilla and FEVER's proffered hand. He understood that Here was a simple genuine soul.

"Price, isn't it important for us to know why Mr. Yancy thinks the boy has been taken back to North Carolina?" said Mahaffy.

"Just what kin is Hannibal to you, Mr. Yancy?" asked the judge resuming his seat.

"Strictly speaking, he ain't none. That he come to live with me is all owing to Mr. Crenshaw, who's a good man when left to himself, but he's got a wife, so a body may say he never is left to himself," began Yancy; and then briefly he told the story of the woman and the child much as he had told it to Bladen at the Barony the day of General Quintard's funeral.

The judge, his back to the light and his face in shadow, rested his left elbow on the desk and with his chin sunk in his palm, followed the Scratch Hiller's narrative with the closest attention.

"And General Quintard never saw him—never manifested any interest in him?" the words came slowly from the judge's lips; he seemed to gulp down something that rose in his throat. "Poor little lad!" he muttered, and again, "Poor little lad!"

"Never once, sir. He told the slaves to keep him out of his sight. We-all wondered, 'out you know how niggers will talk. We thought maybe he was some kin to the Quintards, but we couldn't figure out how. The old general never had but one child and she had been dead for years. The child couldn't have been hers no-how," Yancy paused.

The judge drummed idly on the desk.

"What implacable hate—what iron pride!" he murmured, and swept his hand across his eyes. Absorbed and aloof, he was busy with his thoughts that spanned the waste of years—years that seemed to glide before him in review, each bitter with its hideous memories of shame and defeat. Then from the smoke of these lost battles emerged the lonely figure of the child as he had seen him that June night.

quickly. "But I ~~was~~ who had been acting like she was plumb distracted ever since Charley Norton got shot."

"How?" inquired the judge, arching his eyebrows. Hicks was plainly disturbed by the question.

"Sort of out of her head, Mr. Ware seen it, too."

"He spoke of it?"

"Yes, sir; him and me discussed it together."

The judge regarded Hicks long and intently and in silence. His magnificent mind was at work. If Betty had been distraught he had not observed any sign of it the previous day. In Ware were better informed as to her true mental state why had he chosen this time to go to Memphis?

"I suppose Mr. Ware asked you to keep an eye on Miss Malroy while he was away from home?" said the judge. Hicks, suspicious of the Craft of his questioning, made no answer. "I suppose you told the house servants to keep her under observation?" continued the judge.

"I don't talk to no niggers," replied Hicks, "except to give 'em my orders."

"Well, did you give them that order?"

"No, I didn't."

The sudden and hurried entrance of big Steve brought the judge's examination of Mr. Hicks to a standstill.

"Mas'r, you know dat 'ar coachman George—the big black fellow dat took you into town las' evenin'?"

"I jes' been down at Shanty Hill whar Milly, his wife, is 'carryin' on something scandalous 'cause George ain't never come home!" Steve was laboring under intense excitement, but he ignored the presence of the overseer and addressed himself to Slocum Price.

"Well, what of that?" cried Hicks quickly.

"Thar warn't no George, mind you, Mas'r, but dar was his team in de stable this mornin' and lookin' mighty high done up with hard driving."

"Yes," interrupted Hicks uneasily; "but a pair of lines in a nigger's hands and he'll run any team off its legs!"

"An' the kerriage all scratched up from bein' thrashed through the bushes," added Steve.

"There's a nigger for you!" said Hicks. "She took the rascal out of the field, dressed him like he was a gentleman and pampered him up, and now first chance he gets he runs off!"

"Ah!" said the judge softly. "Then you knew this?"

"Of course I knew—wasn't it my business to know? I reckon he was off skylarking, and when he'd seen the mess he'd made, the trifling fool took to the woods. Well, he catches it when I lay hands on him!"

"Do you know when and under what circumstances the team was stolen, Mr. Hicks?" inquired the judge.

"No, I don't, but I reckon it must have been long after dark," said Hicks unwillingly. "I seen to the feeding just after sundown like I always do, then I went to supper," Hicks vouchsafed to explain.

"And no one saw or heard the team drive in?"

"Not as I know of," said Hicks. "Mas'r Calington's done gone off to get a pack of dawgs—he 'lows hit's might 'important to find what's come of George," said Steve.

Hicks started violently at this piece of news.

"I reckon he'll have to travel a right smart distance to find a pack of dogs," he muttered. "I don't know of none this side of Colonel Bates' down below Girard."

The judge was lost in thought. He permitted an interval of silence to elapse in which Hicks' glance slid round in a furtive circle.

"When did Mr. Ware set out for Memphis?" asked the judge at length. "Early yesterday. He goes there pretty often on business."

"You talked with Mr. Ware before he left?" Hicks shook his head. "Did he speak of Miss Malroy?" Hicks shook his head. "Did you see her during the afternoon?"

"No—maybe you think these niggers ain't enough to keep a man stirring?" said Hicks uneasily and with a scowl. The judge noticed both the uneasiness and the scowl.

"I should imagine they would absorb every moment of your time, Mr. Hicks," he agreed affably.

"A man's got to be a hog for work to hold a job like mine," said Hicks sourly.

"But I ~~was~~ who had been acting like she was plumb distracted ever since Charley Norton got shot."

TO BREAK UP COLD

Some Advice That Will Save Time and Money.

Strong drink and quinine may relieve a cold, but it usually does more harm than good.

To break up a hard cold in either head or chest, thousands are using this sensible treatment.

First of all look after your bowels; if they need attention use any reliable cathartic. Then pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover the head and bowl with a towel and breathe for 5 or 10 minutes the pleasant, soothing, healing vapor.

Do this just before going to bed; your head will feel fine and clear, and you'll wake from a refreshing sleep minus a cold in the morning.

For colds, coughs, catarrh, asthma and croup HYOMEL is guaranteed. A fifty cent bottle is all you need to break up a cold and this can be obtained at Evans' drug store and druggists' everywhere.

Mrs. Amelia Halterman and children Ralph and Geneva of Newark; spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Mary Gaudette and family.

Mr. Charles Kelly is doing a thriving business in his store.

ALWAYS TIRED, WITH LITTLE VITALITY

Modern Tonic, Tona Vita, Will Surely Build You Up Again

Are you one of the run-down, half sick, nervous people with which the country is filled? Do you feel tired all the time with very little vitality? Do you sleep badly and feel as worn out in the morning as when you went to bed? Is your circulation poor and do you catch cold easily? Have you stomach trouble and an irregular appetite? Are you nervous, moody and depressed?

These are sure symptoms of nervous debility. If you are struggling along in this miserable condition the best thing you can possibly do for yourself is to take "Tona Vita" the wonderful new tonic that has the unqualified endorsement of more physicians than any other medicine ever before offered to the public.

Here is what the Rev. Gustave Frederick, pastor of the Evangelistic church, Center Street, Milwaukee, Wis., has to say of it:

"Judging from my own experience I do not hesitate to say that 'Tona Vita' is an extremely valuable preparation. I have not only used it myself, but all other members of my family have been taking it with highly satisfactory results."

"So far as my own case is concerned I have been in a run-down condition for a year or so, trying easily and being troubled with sleeplessness. I lacked vitality and caught cold readily, and my digestion and appetite were poor. I was depressed in mind and body and very nervous."

"I now feel stronger than for a long time. I have more energy and my work is done with much less effort. I sleep and eat better and feel as though rejuvenated."

Tona Vita acts quickly. You will be surprised how rapidly it will build you up. R. F. Collins, 27 North Third street has the agency for Tona Vita in Newark, Ohio, and will return the purchase price if not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

Those present were: Misses Eunice and Mary Hoover, Etha and Vernice Booth, Lola, Inez and Dora Heff, Maude Beckham, Inez Porter, Elsie Myrthes, Etha Dugan, Arja Martin, Mabel Barcroft and Della Colville; Messrs. Cloyd and Carroll Varner, Orville Booth, Harrison Hoover, Earl Martin, Orville Thompson, Gertrude Divan, Carl Beckham, Fred Porter, Otto and Ira Dugan, Eli Crawford and Ray Barcroft. The evening was spent in social conversation, games and music. At a late hour they sang "Farewell, Dear Friends," and then departed for their homes.

OBITUARY

ISAAC PETTY.

Isaac Petty, a well known resident of Newark, passed peacefully away at the home of his son, F. M. Petty, 6 Meridan street, Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of some time with a complication of diseases due to advanced age, he being 81 years old at the time of his death. The body will be taken to Millersport, O., where the funeral services will be held at the Mission church, that place, Thursday morning, Mar. 14, at 11 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wyatt. GERTRUDE E. ANDERSON.

Gertrude Ellen Anderson, the Anderson, died at the home in Clay Lick, about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, after an illness of some time, aged 10 months and 25 days. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the home, and the interment will be made in the Shannon cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sickness and death of our mother; to Dr. Essington, Rev. Ward and the Lutheran choir, and for the many beautiful floral offerings. Cora and Mary Eshelman and Mrs. G. F. Grent.

FROM THE NORTH COUNTRY

Where the Winters Are Cold and the Snows Deep.

Writing from the vicinity David Haum made famous, a man says that he was an habitual coffee drinker, and, although he knew it was doing him harm, (Tea is equally harmful, because it contains caffeine) the same drug found in coffee) was too obstinate to give it up, till all once he went to pieces with nervousness and insomnia, loss of appetite, weakness, and a generally used up feeling, which practically unfitted him for his arduous occupation and kept him on a couch at home when his duty did not call him out.

"While in this condition Grape-Nuts food was suggested to me and I began to use it. Although it was in the middle of winter and the thermometer was often below zero, almost my entire living for about six weeks of severe exposure was on Grape-Nuts food with a little bread and butter and a cup of hot water, till I was wise enough to make Postum my table beverage."

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

How to Remove a Splinter.

A splinter which has been in the flesh may be removed by the aid of steam. Take a wide mouthed bottle and fill it with hot water. Place the injured part over the mouth of the bottle and press tightly. This will draw the flesh, and in a minute or so the steam will extract the splinter.

The popular uprising not coming up to expectation, Mr. Roosevelt seems to feel the necessity of taking the stump even if he has to do some muck-raking.

It's the November polls that are the most exciting in a republic, even in the absence of universal suffrage.

A bill to put sugar on the free list, eliminating $52,000,000 in customs revenue, and another to extend the present corporation tax to include individuals and co-partnerships doing business of $5,000 a year or over, were ratified by the Democratic caucus of the house. The estimate of Chairman Underwood and members of the ways and means committee is that the proposed excise tax would bring in a revenue of between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 a year. Placing sugar on the free list, the Democratic leaders estimate will reduce the cost of sugar to the consumer about a cent and a half a pound. The removal of this tax will bring relief to all, no matter how humble no matter how poor, and the burden will be shifted to those who are possessed of more comfortable fortunes and can bear the additional tax without serious inconvenience.

Senator LaFollette is not the only person who believes he is still a candidate. Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, and Walter D. Corrigan of Milwaukee, believe it, and addressed a meeting of Progressives in Minot, N. D., in his interest on Saturday. Mr. Corrigan accused Mr. Roosevelt while president of antagonizing the LaPollette Progressive campaign in Wisconsin, and said that the two last national conventions, which repudiated the LaFollette platform were controlled by Mr. Roosevelt, which they unquestionably were.

LaFollette may prove to be very much in opposition to Roosevelt and make a pretty strong showing that Teddy's progressivism is a delusion and a snare.

Thousands of Republicans are settling down to the conclusion that there is no show for their party this year regardless of whether their candidate is Taft or Teddy.

It is claimed that the maple syrup season will be very short this year and the supply limited.

What show will there be for the modern battleship if big guns and explosives are going to be powerful enough to penetrate the steel armor like cheese?

The tariff bills which Democratic members enacted during the extraordinary session of congress with the assistance of a few progressive Republicans and despite the opposition of a Republican federal administration would have saved the American people $500,000,000 a year, had President Taft withheld the vetoes from them. At the same time there would have been about as much revenue produced under them as the Payne bill raises. The Taft vetoes practically handed over this immense sum of money to the tariff barons which otherwise would have remained in the pockets of the people.

Philadelphia Record: The report that Colonel Roosevelt will take the stump in his fight for a third term will be joyfully hailed in the camp of his opponents. He is sure to tangle himself, as he did at Columbus, in a maze of coarsure offhand attacks on the faults of failings of our present balanced system of representative government, for which he has coarsure and off-hand remedy. He will quickly stomp himself out of the running.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place," is an old saying which is, to a great extent true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead some good, reliable hair restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

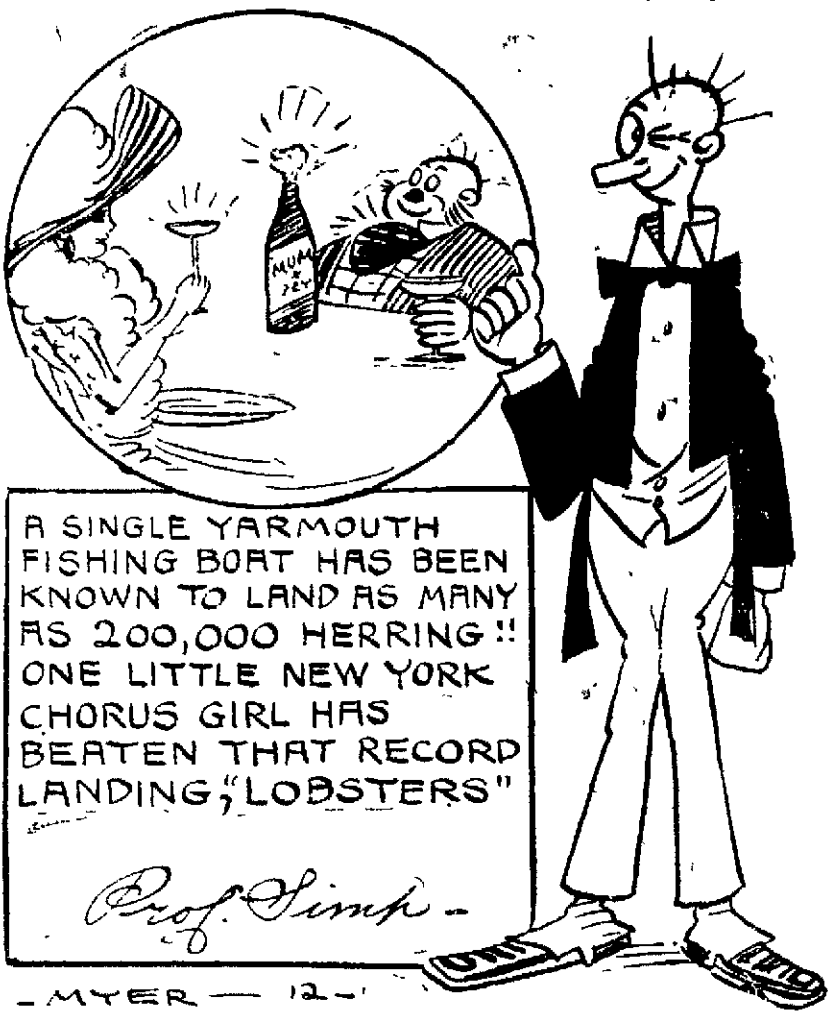

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

HARMON IS ENDORSED AT MANSFIELD

Mansfield, March 13.—A conference of prominent Democrats of the Fourteenth congressional district was held here yesterday in regard to primaries and conventions. The friends of Governor Harmon were present to safeguard his interests. A third nomination was unanimously conceded to Congressman W. G. Sharp. Richland and Knox counties asked nothing, and it was finally decided that Charles M. Bear of Ashland and Don Young of Huron should be the candidates for delegates to the national convention and B. N. Harris of Lorain and William Beebe of Morrow the candidates for alternates.

Extended resolutions endorsing Governor Harmon for the presidential nomination were adopted by a 19-1 vote. It was decided to hold the Twenty-seventh and Twenty-ninth joint senatorial convention at Ashland May 23.

PROF. SIMPS' STATISTICS.

DATE SET FOR THE JUDICIAL CONVENTION

Will Be Held in Newark, Friday, July 5, at Which Time Democrats Will Nominate Candidate for Common Pleas Judge.

The Democratic judicial committee appointed by the last convention for the nomination of a common pleas judge in this sub-division has met and by proper action decided on holding the convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for common pleas judge in the first sub-division of the Sixth judicial district, composed of Licking, Delaware and Knox counties, at Newark, O., on July 5, 1912, at 1 o'clock p. m., and that the delegates to the convention should be selected by a county convention to be selected at the May primaries, and the committee also determined that in the district convention each county should be entitled to one delegate for each 100 votes and major fraction thereof cast for Governor Harmon at the last state election.

The committeemen from this county were Edward Kibler, Sr. and Rodger Jones. Marysville, O., March 13. — Wilber Hogue of Magnetic Springs, was arrested here yesterday on a warrant issued by County Clerk John C. Harshorn, charging him with shooting with intent to kill Hogue compelled Clifford Black, a young man, to dance, while Hogue fired several bullets at his feet in Wild West style.

THE INFANT DICKENS

A hundred years ago the kid was kicking up much fuss and bother, and everything the infant did seemed cute as thunder to his father. The old man rocked him when he screamed, and jolled him when he crossed and snarled, and as he rocked he doubtless dreamed of triumph that might come to Charles. "This son of mine," the old man thought, and drew the cradle close and closer, "may some day own a house and lot, or be the leading corner grocer. He may arise through stress and storm, and be a credit to his people, perhaps he'll wear a uniform and

RIVAL BOOMS CREATE TUMULT

Washington Filled With Clamor and Shouting.

HOTTEST CAMPAIGN IN YEARS

Headquarters of Various Presidential Candidates—Advent of Roosevelt Increases the Tumult—Calendar Wednesday to Stay—Breaking Hoke Smith to Harness.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 13.—[Special.]—"Going at each other hammer and tongs" is an old expression, yet it fits the present situation in regard to the numerous political headquarters which have been located in Washington and where "the political pot is boiling," where "politics is seething," and, in fact, where everything is just as hot and as much stirred up as all these old expressions imply.

For a time the riot was confined to the Democratic party and was started by the Wilson-Watterson-Harvey row. Since that time there have been some very hot words passed by Champ Clark and the Wilson managers, not to say "onside kicks" by Bryan and others from a distance.

But the establishment of Taft and Roosevelt headquarters in Washington started things moving in the Republican camp. For months the La Follette headquarters had been running along overtime, in fact—turning out much literature and making considerable noise, but the advent of Roosevelt's "hat in the ring" made the Taft men open headquarters, which was quickly followed by the Roosevelt men.

And now everything is going at high tension, with steam escaping from the safety valves of every political engine. It indicates that 1912 is going to be anything but a tame political year.

Passing Legislation.

While there are a great many men in the house—mostly the leaders—who complain about the amended rules providing for calendar Wednesday and unanimous consent without application to the speaker, it is a fact that much useful legislation is passed on these days. It is true that appropriation bills are delayed, but without the days so set apart much legislation could never be considered. No matter which party wins, these amended rules have come to stay.

Too Big a Bet.

Speaking of the last tariff bill which came out of the ways and means committee, wiping out $53,000,000 of revenue and providing for an income tax, John Sharp Williams, who has given a great deal of attention to tariff matters, remarked, "I'm something of a sports, but I am not willing to bet $50,000,000 that the supreme court will reverse itself on the income tax proposition."

That remark looks as if Williams, always in favor of the reduction of the tariff, is not going to support this particular bill.

Hoke's Realization.

Hoke Smith has been a cabinet officer and twice governor of Georgia, and he does not always relish the patronizing of the "elder statesmen" of the senate.

"After the senator has been here awhile longer he will learn," etc., remarked Senator Gallinger, who is almost the dean of the senate.

"I realize that there is a great deal for me to learn after I have been here awhile longer," replied Hoke Smith.

Matter of Concern.

The disagreeable weather along about the 4th of March gave the friends of the movement to change the date of inauguration an opportunity to ride their hobby. Among them was J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, who took the floor in the house to say that it was very apparent that the weather conditions should cause a change.

"Does not the gentleman think," asked Fitzgerald of New York, "that as a Republican he is unduly concerned about the character of the weather in Washington a year hence?"

Moore denied it and said that if the honored speaker, then in the chair, "is to be promoted from his present position to the presidency his health and life should be preserved a year hence, when he will be inaugurated."

Atlases in the House.

Every person who has been at school recalls the picture in the geography of Atlas bearing on his shoulders the atlas, hence the following: "The trouble with the house," remarked Congressman Rucker of Colorado, "is that we have too many Atlases. They are constantly in fear that something may happen and the earth which they are bearing upon their shoulders will tip over and slide off with a tremendous crash. They are awful serious about this, as we can see from day to day."

It Sometimes Gets Serious.

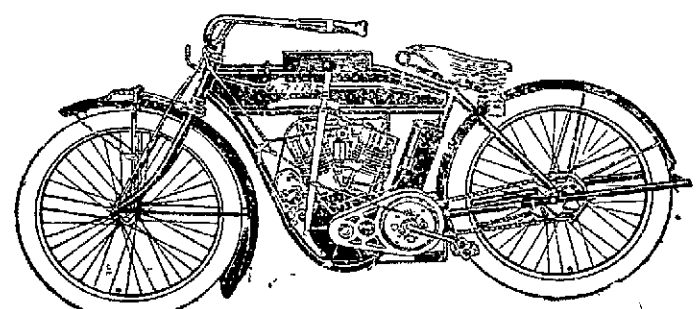

They do more or less joking around the executive offices these days as to what will happen to the earnest Taft men who are there. "You will get canned," or "You won't be allowed to stay around here" and "There will be a new deal when Teddy comes back" and such remarks are often heard. But they get real serious occasionally because some of those men believe that T. R. cannot be headed when he goes out for anything.

POPULAR SPRING FASHION

MARIE ANTOINETTE COLLAR

The Marie Antoinette collar will be a fashionable addition to milady's toilette for the coming spring. It is especially adapted to the slender throat. Made of Irish crochet and tucked net, edged with Valenciennes lace, it gives an air of elegance to the plain waist or more elaborate toilette.

Any of the heavier meshed laces can be substituted for the high round collar, according to the taste of the wearer, but just at present and from all indications throughout the summer Irish crochet will be used to give a refined touch to all dainty gowns.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. John Sutphin Jones of Granville were guests of Columbus friends the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tallmadge of Columbus and their guest Miss Kase of New York will be guests over next Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jones at their town home "Monomoy Place."

President, Mrs. E. E. Moore.
First vice president, Miss Melia Burch.

Second vice president, Mrs. Lloyd G. Millis.
Recording secretary, Mrs. Floyd Clunis.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Howard S. Barriek.
Treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Burch.

Librarian, Mrs. H. W. Rhoads.
The next meeting of the club will be on March 26 at the home of Mrs. Bockoven in North Tenth street.

The Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club is being entertained this afternoon by Mrs. Jesse D. Elliott at her home in Hudson avenue.

The twenty-four Vassar sophomores chosen to carry the daisy chain on the class day next June represent many sections of the United States. New York City has three representatives, Miss Martha Tipton of New York City has been elected marshal of the Sophomore class in which position she will lead the class day procession across the campus. The custom of carrying the daisy chain before the graduating class is a feature of Vassar's commencement week which distinguishes it from that of any other college.

On the day before class day, all the sophomores will make excursions into the fields about Vassar gathering thousands of daisies for the chain. Its length is measured by the number of seniors, a foot being allowed for every girl of that class. It will be unusually long this year as there are 248 in the graduating class.

Ohio will be represented in the chain by Miss Mary Berden Buckinham of Springfield, O.

The Progressive club has for hostess this afternoon Mrs. George Franklin of Hudson avenue. A number of guests of the club will be present.

Miss Sadie Jones entertained the members of the N. B. M. Club at her home in Park avenue on Tuesday evening. The first hour was given over to a business session at the close of which delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Clark Provin very pleasantly entertained a few friends with a taffy pulling Tuesday evening at her home in West Main street in honor of her guest, Miss Bernice Preston, of Coshocton, O.

Those present were: Miss Bernice Preston, Mesdames Lucinda Pound, Maria Anderson, Kent King, Estella Phelps, Misses Edith Haynes, Mildred King, Messrs. George Provin, Hubert King, Fred Provin, Searl Provin, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Provin.

How to Keep Sponges Sweet and Springy

Most people find sponges hard to keep clean and free from slime, and for this reason have discarded them entirely. However, it is easy to keep them clean and sweet if—in addition to rinsing in clean, warm water after being used—they are boiled once a week in water to which has been added a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder, and then rinsed through several clear, warm waters. Wash-cloths should also be boiled in Gold Dust suds and thoroughly rinsed, sunned and ironed. Those of thin linen crash are more desirable than heavy ones.

MILADY'S TOILET TABLE.

By Mmes. D'MILLE.

The electric needle can be resorted to for the removal of superfluous hairs, but the operation is expensive and requires a first class operator. Wild hairs can be quickly and easily removed at home by the application of delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone with water and cover the hairy surface, apply and wipe off after two or three minutes; then wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

A clear, soft and satiny complexion can be achieved by rubbing the face, neck and arms gently each morning with a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. This is a wonderful complexion beautifier and prevents growth of hair.

To reduce swellings, allay inflammation, to stop ache in back or joints, to relieve pain from strain, bruise, sore muscles or any cause; apply Mother's Salve before retiring, rubbing in well. It is used for neuralgia, headache, rheumatism, lumbago, etc. The world never saw its equal as a pain reliever.

Don't catch cold washing your head. To make a dry shampoo that cleans the scalp and hair, put a cupful of corn meal in a fruit jar, add contents of an original package of therox, and shake well together. Sprinkle a spoonful on the head and brush well through the hair. It will make the hair light, fluffy and beautifully lustrous.

MARTINSBURG

An old fashioned literary society program was held in the town hall Saturday for the benefit of the public library. Dr. W. E. Shrontz acted as president and Miss Laura Bowman as secretary. Papers and essays were read by Mrs. R. H. Ralston, Mrs. Jane Magaw, Grover Larason and Fred J. Freese. Recitations were delivered by the Misses Marie Colville, Jennie Deal, Pearl Cullison and Mrs. Joe Burwell. A feature of the evening was the old time songs by a choir of singers led by Mrs. Dr. J. F. Shrontz.

A very interesting debate resulted from discussing the question: "Resolved That the patriotism of this country is on the decline." The question was affirmed by Carl Van Vorhis and Archie Hampshire and denied by Walter Mossholder and Supt. J. C. Skaggs.

The young people of the Disciple church will give a play in the town hall next Saturday evening. Subject the Little Darrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Linza Hayes and daughter, Grace are spending the winter in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Crow, of Pennsylvania, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. "Danty" Behout.

Mrs. Charlie Norris has moved from the Lum Jewell farm to the farm of Lester McCammet.

Mr. John Fawcett will move from the Dr. Shrontz farm to the John Medlin farm.

SUMMIT STATION

Miss Kittie Mason received a telegram from Donnora Postoffice stating her father, Mr. Lafayette Mason, had died at that place Sunday night. Miss Mason left Tuesday morning for Donnora to attend the funeral. Mr. Mason was an old soldier, aged 68 years, and had been ailing for some time with paralysis.

Miss Helen Woodruff of Kirkersville spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Leora Buckingham.

Mrs. W. S. Griffith has been spending the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Huggins of Columbus.

Rev. A. B. Davis was unable to fill his appointment in the M. E. pulpit here last week, he having a siege with the grip.

The Summit L. T. L. met at the home of Jonathan Waggy and sisters on South Main street March 9th. The meeting was called to order by the president, Lester Gelger. After the business session, during which it was decided that the L. T. L. hold a leap year picnic social in the Grange hall, March 16, for its members, the lesson was taken up by the different classes. The remainder of the evening was spent socially. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Glorine Besse, March 23. The L. T. L. has a membership of 80 and is doing a good work.

Mrs. Elmer Ewing of Union Station was the guest of Mrs. S. B. Besse and Mrs. J. D. Holcomb the latter part of last week.

The directors of the Summit Creamery company met Monday and hired the present butter maker, Mr. S. P. Ealey for another year.

Courson Hamilton is running the creamery at Reynoldsburg.

HEART AND HOME TALKS BY BARBARA BOYD

The Business Girl Who "Fell Down."

IT is rather rare for a business girl to acknowledge that she has taken a position that she cannot measure up to, to resign it, and to go cheerfully back to her former duties. That she can face the situation thus courageously and brightly speaks well for her character and her chances of future happiness. For most people under the circumstances would have held on until they were discharged, and then become bitter.

But a certain business girl was brave enough to take this rather unusual course. She was very ambitious, and by persistence, she fairly compelled the firm for whom she worked in one capacity to give her a higher position than was vacant. The firm were satisfied with the work she was doing, and several of the chiefs were doubtful of her ability to fill the higher position. But she was so anxious to have it, that they finally acceded and she was promoted.

She worked hard for a year. She faithfully did her best. But the more deeply she got into the new work, the more she realized it was beyond her. And when she had tried it long enough to be fully convinced, she went to the head, admitted her error, and asked for her old work back. She did it cheerfully, too. And she performed her old duties as carefully and thoroughly as ever. No doubt she had her own battle. But the best in her won out.

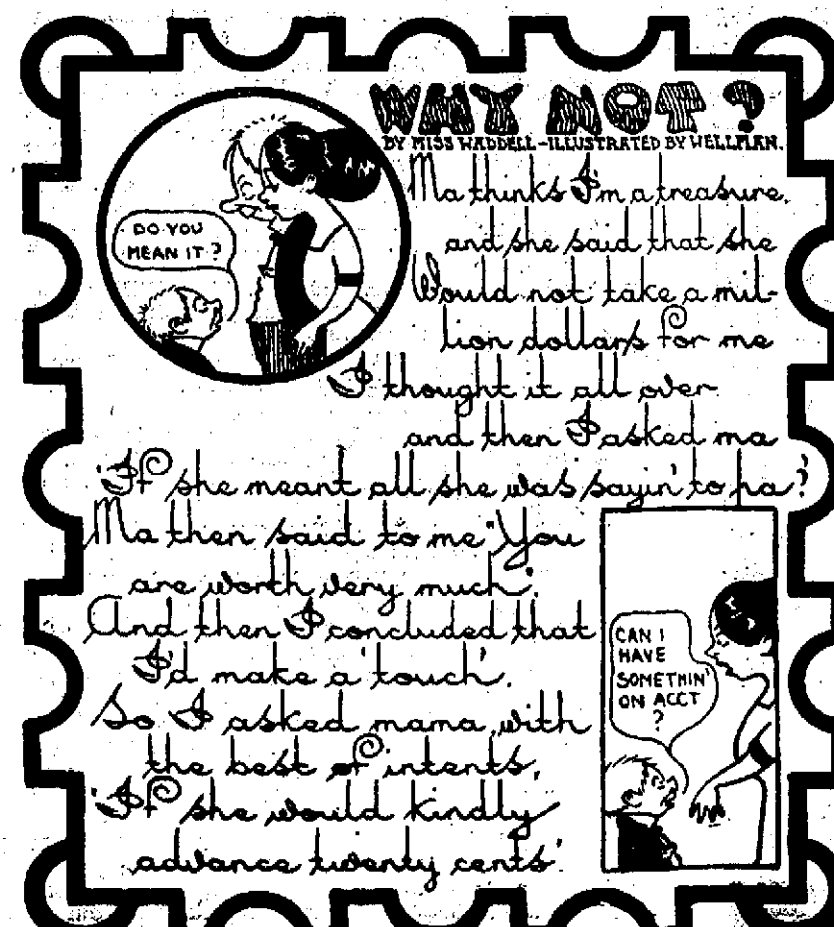

How many of us would have done it? With some, pride would have prevented. Or we would have hunted around for an excuse, and said we weren't getting a square deal. Or we would have worried along until we probably would have been discharged. And then, the face of life would have been changed for us, for a while at least. We would have been bitter and pessimistic and said there was no use in trying to get ahead.

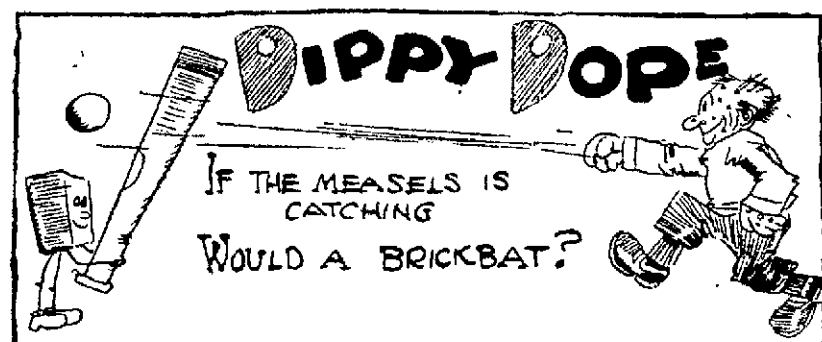

There is something to think about in this girl's action. It is well enough to be ambitious. We should always try to get ahead. And as a rule, the fact that we want to get ahead is indicative that we can. But when we do take a step in what seems a forward direction, if we discover that our judgment has been at fault, how much wiser to do as this girl did than to worry ourselves into illness over the way the work is going, or to make an open failure of it.

This girl did not quit because she was too lazy to do the added work that came to her, or because she wanted to shirk responsibility, but because she had to admit honestly to herself that she hadn't the ability. This did not mean that she hadn't ability in other lines, but simply that this was beyond her.

It isn't pleasant to go back. But sometimes, we do take the wrong turn. And it is better when we discover it to face about, than to go stubbornly forward until we are so far from the right course that it is impossible to return. This simply means a wreck by the roadside. Whereas, by getting once more into our right path we will go on to ultimate success, perhaps all the surer, because of our little excursion. For we know now that we are in our right work. And if we hadn't tried the other, we might always have been tortured by the longing for it, and so have given the work in hand but half-hearted attention. But having satisfied ourselves on this score, we can now turn with our whole heart to what we have to do, and so march forward to success; which after all is the goal with most of us, no matter what road we take.

Barbara Boyd.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Story of The Little Spring Snowdrops

EVELYN had begun to talk of what she meant to have in her garden. The children both had gardens every summer. "I'm going to have the very first flowers that grow," Evelyn told Jack.

"And what are the first?" Jack wished to know.

"Well, I'm not sure. We'll ask daddy." Daddy said he thought snowdrops would be about the earliest, for sometimes they came peeping up through the snow.

"I suppose that's why they call them snowdrops," Evelyn said.

"Well, no; I think not," daddy replied. "In fact, I don't know just why they are called snowdrops, but here's a little story I've heard told to account for them."

"Once upon a time old Father Winter sat in his snow and ice palace with his courtiers standing about his throne.

"Great am I," rumbled old King Winter, for he was fond of singing his own praises. "Great am I. Oh, there is none greater!"

"But suddenly the door was slipped silently open. A slender youth slipped in. He had curls of gold and eyes of the sunniest blue.

"Hail, King Winter," cried the stranger. But he did not bow or fall before the throne, as King Winter expected all who came before him to do.

"You do not know who I am, I see," King Winter growled. "I am he whose frown turns the rivers and lakes to ice and fills the land with snow so that no one dares go in or out. When I blow my icy breath abroad no one can stand before me. All living things, whether it is the leaf on the tree or the bird in its nest, must flee or die."

"All this sounds well," the stranger answered, "but when I call on them ice and snow vanish, and the flowers and birds are seen everywhere.

"Behold!" and the youth lifted to his lips a silver bugle and blew upon it a blast of such thrilling sweetness that the walls of the ice palace shook and crumbled, and through the great rents could be seen outdoors the leaves coming out on the trees, the flowers pushing their heads up out of the moist earth and the little birds winging their way from tree to tree.

"The followers of King Winter looked up, and the warm blue sky was shining overhead, and little by little the walls of the palace shrank away till there remained only the old king shivering on his ice throne.

"Then the youth waved his wand, and the throne crumbled and melted. In a few minutes all that remained of the old king and his throne was a clump of little white flowers, snowdrops, the only thing left to remind the world of winter."

NAVY AND PEACE.
A powerful navy is not provocative of war, but a provocative of peace. All nations will keep peace with us if we have a first class navy and men who know how to handle the ships. It helps them mightily when they know we have a great fleet. I will do anything honorable to avert war—and I ask you to judge me by my acts and not by my words—but I will do nothing that I do not consider honest or anything that I think the people of the country will repudiate. In certain cases I will go against popular excitement and clamor provided that I do not think the cause is a just one.—Theodore Roosevelt.

SPECIAL FAMILY DINNER.

The country-bred may like to have either squash or pumpkin served as a vegetable. Peel, cut up, bake soft and mash, then season well with salt, a little pepper and a tiny bit of onion juice. Make in a cake and lay in paper bag mould or a well-buttered bag. Lay thin strips of bacon over the cake, seal an cook in a hot oven ten to twelve minutes. Turn out a hot dish and serve with the beef. Pumpkin in particular, mashed and cooked in the gravy of roast fresh pork, is tempting and toothsome, to say nothing of being somewhat out of the common. As an accompaniment to roast suckling pig, it has no superior, unless it may be yellow yam. (Copyright, 1911, by the Associated Literary Press.)

LICKING BOY WILL SECURE INFORMATION

H. D. Swygert, a well known Licking county young man, who at present is holding the position of statistical expert for State School Commissioner Miller, has been selected to get first hand sentiment in the rural districts about the question of centralized schools. Mr. Swygert will tramp up and down country roads, with instructions to stop every farmer he meets and ask him what he thinks about centralized schools. Unless he is asked point blank who he is, where he is from and why he wants the information, he will not volunteer information about himself.

"We think that by this plan we will be able to get the information we desire," said Commissioner Miller. "We want all the reasons both for and against centralized schools. I have written to all states asking for their experience with centralized schools and all the information we get, both for and against, will be set forth in a publication to be issued."

Commissioner Miller favors centralized schools generally, though conceding that they will not fit in everywhere.

FINDS LONG-LOST SON.

Laporte, Ind., March 12. — Mrs. W. R. Hettlinger, living near Hamilton, O., was reunited today with her son, Opie Kilmer, after having lost all trace of him for 20 years. Kilmer was taken from an orphanage when he was a babe and later was adopted by the family whose name he bears. He was located through advertisements.

Pimpily? Well, Don't Be!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pimples will vanish after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Nothing ever cleansed the blood, the bowels and the liver like Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets are the only successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Olive Tablets do all that calomel does and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste" a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Try them. Take one nightly for a week. Then look at yourself in the glass and see how you feel.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

10c. and 25c. per box.

RENEWING COMPLEXIONS BY ABSORPTION.

If your complexion is marred with blotches, sallowness, moth patches, pimples, blackheads or freckles, it's useless to putter with powders and paints, jellies, creams and things. Unless you have some ability as an artist you'll mar your appearance still more.

The new and rational way is to take off the complexion itself, with all its offensive marks. Just get an ounce of pure mercolized wax at the druggist's and use at night same as cold cream. Remove next morning with water and soap. The mercolized wax absorbs the half-dead scarf skin in flaky particles, so gradually no one guesses you're treating your face—unless it be by the result, which is truly wonderful. There's nothing like it for restoring a natural, healthy and beautiful complexion. —Aunt Sally.

EVERY MINUTE COUNTS WHEN YOU ARE IN PAIN

Instant Relief for Indigestion and Stomach Troubles Afforded by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. Free Trial Package.

There is no occasion to suffer five minutes of indigestion or any similar stomach trouble when you can so easily get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Time It Takes a Messenger to Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Seems a Sick Stomach.

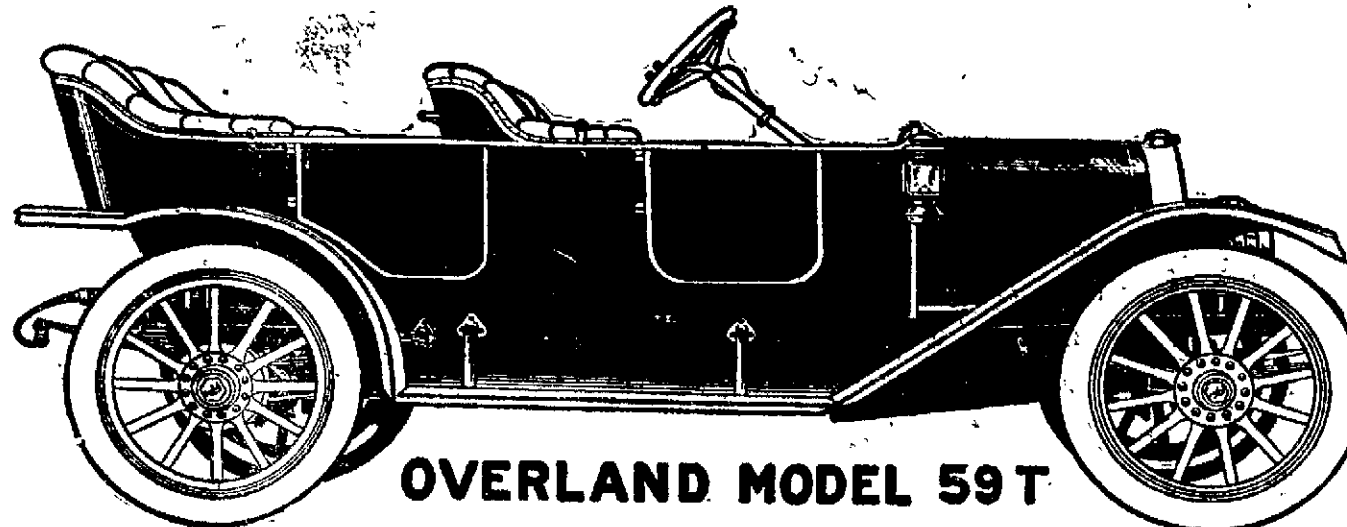

When millions are used every year—and when every other man or woman that you meet will recommend Stuart's to you if you will but inquire—why do you continue to suffer from stomach trouble? What more evidence can you ask? And as still further proof you can even send and get a sample package entirely free. The reason why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets afford such results are very easy to understand. These tablets contain almost the same elements as the gastric juices of the stomach. And when your stomach is sick and not working just right, it does not give out enough of the natural digestive juices to properly take care of the food you eat. So if you will only give the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet you will relieve it of its chief duty and allow it the rest it needs to recuperate. One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food, whether you place it in a glass jar or in your stomach. In all drug stores sell them. The price is 50 cents per box. If you prefer to try them first write to P. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., and a sample package will be sent you free.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

We have noted with much pleasure the enthusiasm manifested in the meetings of the citizens of the east and north sections or centers of the city in the interest of Clean-Up Day, and furthering the civic improvement idea for a cleaner, more beautiful and healthful place in which to live. With such natural beauties all about us, we should arouse ourselves from apparent indifference and make Newark what she ought to be—a truly beautiful city. Now, no city can be called beautiful until it is clean; and no one who has used his eyes can say that we are clean at this present time. This long, cold winter has developed a careless spirit that has shown forth, since the snows have gone, in all its disagreeable features. The question that presents itself to every person in our city is, "What am I going to do to better conditions here this season? What have I done this past winter to make this question necessary?" Answer these questions in the most practical and common sense way, by getting busy, right away and thoroughly clean up your whole premises and cleanse by the generous use of lime sprinkled about where necessary, that a wholesome place will be found, instead of a death-trap.

This much done and we have gone far toward warding off possible epidemic this coming spring and summer. Scatter abroad the gospel of cleanliness and see what it will do for the moral development as well as for the beautiful.

Don't wait for the Board of Trade Clean-Up Day, but rather help to make it unnecessary for such a display as we had on this special day one year ago.

Work together, men, women and children — for a cleaner and better Newark.

BROOKSIDE

Mr. Raymond Prior of Chicago, accompanied by his brother Vern of Newark, spent Sunday at the home.

Mr. Walter Prior has been having a bad throat.

Mr. John Hanley has moved near Gratiot.

Mr. Morris has moved into the city.

Mr. A. Mattingly and family entertained some of their relatives from Indiana and some from Toledo Sunday and Monday.

M. L. Young has sold his property and will move into the city some time during the week.

The spelling match at the Brookside school was postponed on account of the weather.

Look over the Wants tonight.

SUFFRAGE JUST AND DESIRABLE

The burden of proof is always on those who advocate any restriction upon universal suffrage in a democracy.

Those who have opposed woman suffrage have sought to meet this burden by asserting that woman's sphere is the home, implying that knowledge which would fit a woman to be a voter would unfit her to be a mother.

In short, this argument means that the ideal mother is an ignorant woman, or at least a woman ignorant of public affairs—all of which no sane person believes.

Equal suffrage is abstractly just, and it is practically desirable in order that the family life on all sides may center about civic duty and the public welfare. Then, too, the pitiful need of the women who work demands that they be given some voice in determining the conditions under which their tremendous social service is rendered.

—Newton D. Baker, Mayor of Cleveland, in the Pittsburgh Sun.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulax relieved and strengthened the bowels so that I have been regular ever since." —A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

SLUGGISH BOWELS CAUSE HEADACHE, DIZZINESS AND SICK, SOUR STOMACH

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels: how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish intestines—you always get the desired results with Cascarets.

Don't let your stomach liver and bowels make you miserable another moment; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, backache and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the poison and effete matter which is producing the misery.

Take a Cascaret now; don't wait until bedtime. In all the world there is no remedy like this. A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. No more days of gloom and distress if you will take a Cascaret now and then. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too.

WHERE THEY ARE NOW

Readers are invited to contribute to this department, sending names and facts of interest. Be sure to send street addresses if possible and write all proper names carefully.

TO OUT-OF-TOWN SUBSCRIBERS—When you have finished reading the Advocate, kindly hand it to some friend, manufacturer or business man who might be interested in Newark. No matter where you live or what you are doing, you can often say a word which will be a big boost for your HOME TOWN. Newark is going forward, but every little push from its outside friends will make its progress more rapid.

Ex-State Senator George Iden, former teacher of writing in the Newark schools, has resigned his position in the bureau of internal revenue at Washington, but is still living at the national capital. Senator Iden served in the internal revenue department for 14 years, 8 months and 3 days without missing a single day. He is thinking of coming back to Newark, to take up his residence once more in this city.

H. Martin Williams, who formerly taught school at Johnstown, and whose home years ago was in Knox county, is now reading clerk in the house of representatives at Washington, having been appointed a few months ago. Mr. Williams, who is a cousin of Mr. Frank Dudgeon, now calls Illinois his home state, but he is loyal to Ohio and is a warm friend of Congressman Ashbrook.

Edward S. Davidson, brother of Major R. M. Davidson, is manager of the DeKalb County Gas Company at DeKalb, Ill., and is getting good results for his company. Davidson's wife was formerly Miss Clara Davidson, wife of Centerville, Iowa, daughter of Mrs. Anna Deeds Law, niece of Charles Deeds of Union Station, O. Mrs. Law lived there years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have two children, both sons, Howard Salisbury, aged 3, and Curtis Law, who is 3 years old.

Charles R. Shields, former partner of Col. W. C. Wells in the merchant tailoring business here, who was recently elected cashier of the New First National Bank at Columbus, has bought a farm 30 minutes' ride from the Columbus state house, and is preparing to take up his residence there. Mr. Shields has been assistant cashier of the New First National for a number of years.

Mrs. T. A. Reed, formerly Miss Evelyn Downey, whose father was upholsterer for the late Geo. W. Scott, lives in Dekalb, Ill. The daughter of Hal Downey lives with Mrs. Reed. Mr. Reed is foreman in one of the departments of the American Steel & Wire Company at DeKalb.

Mrs. Grace Reilly Clark, who formerly lived in Hudson avenue, has for several years resided in Chicago, Illinois.

An error occurred in the recent announcement regarding the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Bremigen. The paragraph should have read: "Mrs. Emma Bremigen and daughter Hazel and son Roe are living at 178 Beech street, Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Bremigen's daughter Mary, now Mrs. Clarence A. Hill, is living in Granville, O., the announcement of her marriage in a recent issue having been a pleasant surprise to Newark friends."

OFFICERS FOR THE ENGWERSON CHORAL SOCIETY

More Talent Needed for Production of "Elijah"—News of Granville and Vicinity.

Granville, March 12.—At a meeting of the Engwerson Choral Society Miss Dorothy R. Swartz was elected secretary-treasurer, and J. W. Wolfe librarian. A new constitution has been adopted to meet the growing needs of the society. Work on the "Elijah" is progressing but more talent is needed for the various parts, especially in the bass. A chorus has been established in Newark under Mr. Priske's direction, and plans for one or two others are under way. It is the intention to have all these co-ordinate with the Granville chorus as parts of the society. All would prepare the same music, and combine in all the festivals, thus making possible greater results in every way.

The ninth Composer Recital will be given in Recital Hall on Wednesday evening of next week at 7 o'clock. A symphony, a piano number and an organ sonata by Mendelssohn will be played.

Miss Louise Seldon of Lansing, Mich., who has been making an extended visit with relatives and friends in the east made a short visit with friends in Granville Tuesday.

The Artist Recital to be given at Recital Hall this evening by Mrs. Edith Sage MacDonald, soprano, and Mrs. Maude Wentz MacDonald, contralto, with Mr. Samuel Richard Gaines at the piano, promises to be one of the most delightful musical entertainments of the present semester.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Fielding of Springfield, O., who have been here for the past several days, visiting old friends, left Wednesday for Pittsburgh, where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Selby, for a few days.

One of the best meetings of the C. L. Herick Geological society of Denison University that has been held in a long time was that held on Monday evening of this week, when an exceedingly interesting program was carried out.

At the last regular meeting of the Philomathean Literary society the following program was rendered: "Incidents from the Life of Riley," Margaret Allen; reading, "The South Wind and the Sun," Lena Neth; violin solo, Elizabeth Matthews; reading, "Scenes from Childhood," Marie Ballard; reading, "Youth," Lillian Bogs; reading, Florence McIntyre; reading, "Old Age," Abigail Rowley; extemporaneous debate: Resolved, "That the class of 1915 has established a better standard for Philo than the class of 1912." Grace Jones, att. Ruth Mather, neg. The judges decided in favor of the negative. Critic's report.

Mr. C. Y. Lieu of Peking, China, class of '03, D. U., is visiting in the village, the guest of Prof. Carney. He has spent the past three years at the Columbia School of Mines, and is now on his way home to engage in mining engineering. Mr. Lieu made many friends during his stay in Granville, all of whom wish him success in his chosen profession.

Miss Sarah Edwards of near Bowling Green, O., who has been visiting relatives in Granville and vicinity for some days, left for her home Wednesday.

JUG RUN

Rev. E. B. Senteé spent from Friday till Monday with the members of the Perry church.

Mrs. V. M. Van Winkle spent part of last week with relatives at Newark.

Mr. George Dugan and family spent Tuesday night with Mr. R. A. Rhinehart and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holdbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright. Mr. Noble Baughman returned to his home in Newark Wednesday, after spending two weeks with Mr. R. A. and Mr. E. D. Rhinehart and families.

Mr. Elmer Howell and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Dugan, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Rhinehart took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhinehart.

Miss Mas Ashcraft is visiting her aunt, Miss Otta Oxley.

Mrs. William Magruder returned to her home here after spending a week with her children at Shelby, O.

Miss Flora Rhinehart spent Sunday with Miss Jennie Clark.

Mrs. Jay Frampton and daughter Doris spent Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Rhinehart.

Mr. A. A. Rhinehart was a guest of his brother, Mr. Jacob Rhinehart of Newark Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Bill Frey spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Davidson.

NEWS OF VARIOUS OHIO CITIES

Marion: A decision of the Ohio Supreme court in which the circuit court was reversed and the conviction in the common pleas court was sustained, makes it necessary for Loring J. Smith to serve a two-years' sentence in the penitentiary. He was convicted for the embezzlement of $198 from the Ohio Milling Co. for which he was received.

Chillicothe: Major Cahill fined Edward Taylor $200 and costs on a charge of wife beating.

Piqua: Escaping gas fumes at the home of John Hart resulted in the death of Miss Elizabeth Hartlett, age 82, and the serious illness of Mrs. John Hart here yesterday. A defective flue caused the gas fumes to spread through the house.

Springfield: John E. Lynch a saloonist, was freed yesterday from a contempt charge brought by the probate court in an alleged violation of the Rose law. The order of abatement, putting Lynch out of business, was not reversed.

Delaware: The traffic on the Springfield division of the Big Four was tied up for 24 hours because of a freight wreck near here which blocked the tracks.

Forest: Joseph Kemp, age 60, driver of a mail wagon, dropped dead at the B. and O. station here yesterday of heart trouble.

Findlay: E. C. Snyder, J. R. Rakestraw and Mrs. C. Brown are under arrest for violation of the state law forbidding the practice of medicine and surgery without a certificate. The trio claims to be "chiropractors."

Lancaster: Wesley C. Bates, a socialist and attorney of Columbus, has sued B. F. Snyder, mayor of Sugar Grove, and Adam Mills, the village marshal, for $5,000 damages for false arrest and assault.

Springfield: A commission consisting of the officials of the Moose lodge, visited this city today to look over a location for the proposed Moose National University and home. Business men have pledged $20,000 to locate the home here.

East Liverpool: The Elks of this city will celebrate the nineteenth anniversary of the institution of the lodge on March 20. An elaborate program is being prepared.

Dayton: The plans for the elimination of the grade crossings in this city show an estimated cost of $16,000,000, of which the city must pay $3,500,000.

Lisbon: George McDermitt lighted his pipe and tossed the match aside. It landed on an open can of blasting powder. He was horribly burned about the head and face and may lose the sight of both eyes. He is 21 years old.

Flower: and Saturday, all day, "Beverly of Graustark" are underlined.

Galvani, Magician.

An attraction far removed from the ordinary, or even extraordinary, is announced at the Auditorium in the coming of Galvani, known and acknowledged as the greatest hypnotist the world has ever known. Furnishing more fun, more instruction and mystifying in the extreme, the entertainments of Galvani are unequaled as furnishing a remarkable evening's pleasure. As a public demonstrator for the past 12 years, Galvani has made good everywhere, his business has been almost phenomenal, and in many of the larger cities his engagements have been extended by public request and demand. After witnessing the work of this mental marvel, the most stubborn and prejudiced skeptic always acknowledges the reality of the phenomena of hypnotism and is ready to admit that Galvani is all and even more than he claims to be.

AMUSEMENTS

Press Agent Says:

Nancy Boyer Company.

"Clothes," Grace Georges brilliant society play, by special permission of William A. Brad, will be the offering of dainty Nancy Boyer at the Auditorium tonight, when she will essay the role of Olivia Sherwood, the reckless little fortune hunter.

The play permits Nancy to wear some most exceptional gowns, admits of some splendid dramatic moments for each member of the capable company and furnishes a moral as good as a sermon.

A scenic investiture has been accorded the play. Particularly beautiful is the ball room scene at the home of the Wettlings.

On Thursday afternoon. Merely

NANCY BOYER AT THE AUDITORIUM ALL THIS WEEK.

Mary Ann. Elinor Robson's little idyl, is underlined, presenting Nancy in the role of a little English slavey.

Thursday evening, by special request Adelaine Thurston's beautiful drama, "At Cozy Corner," is announced Friday, both matinee and night, "When Knighthood Was in The Orphan.

Another excellent bill is booked to open the popular Arcade theatre Thursday for the last three days of this week. McPhee and Hill, as the Clown and Lazy Man, in a comedy triple bar and casting act head the bill. They are said to have a line of entertainment that pleases the most critical, full of much clever work and good comedy. This act comes to Newark direct from Ketch's, where they have been a big success.

Brown and Foster, the German and the singer, are also coming. They introduce an excellent line of harmony singing, and original talking which is said to be up to the minute in every respect.

Dave Livingston and Company will present "The Corporation Lawyer." This is a comedy playlet, with a splendid little story told in both pathos and comedy.

Barnes and Edwin, "The Hoosier Kids," have a treat in which they introduce much clever singing and talking. The Orpheuscope will have an excellent picture. Don't forget the five reels of latest licensed motion pictures Sunday for 5 cents.

In Newark Next Friday.

The Dayton Journal published a half column complimentary notice on March 9, after the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir appeared in Dayton, saying by way of introduction:

"The Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, journeying from far off English shores, paused in Dayton Friday and appeared in concert at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium before a large and appreciative audience. The program was one of merit and sounded a distinctive note in that it was not all the average American program."

Mme. Hughes Thomas, under whose direction the choir has been trained, has remarkable control of her choir, and the concert tour in this country has been a remarkable success.

"The singers appeared in native costume during the first half of the program and sang to splendid advantage in part songs, solos and duets."

At First Presbyterian church, Newark, Friday, March 15, at 8 p. m.

College Glee Clubs.

Two college glee clubs (Westleyan and Denison) will give a joint concert at Granville next week, Friday, March 22.

WELL KNOWN MEN

A few readers are under the impression that notices appearing in this column are published and paid for as advertising. To correct this impression this announcement is made. The Advocate accepts no payment for these notices, this newspaper preparing the illustrations and notices from photographs and data obtained either from the men who are mentioned or from their friends. Nearly every man recognizes this publication as a compliment, as, in fact, it is. Money can not buy a place in the Advocate's department, "Well Known Men."

John Hedrick, Newark's veteran gunsmith, has the honor of being Newark's oldest business man, both in age and in the number of years he has been in the harness. Mr. Hedrick was born near Glenford, Perry county, August 29, 1829, his parents being Jacob and Sarah Hodrick. He remained on the farm until he reached the age of 20 years, when he came to Newark in January of 1850, and apprenticed himself to Joshua Zartman, one of the pioneer gunsmiths of the county. At the expiration of his three years' apprenticeship he bought out Mr. Zartman and started in for himself, and has been in the business continuously ever since. On April 17, 1856, he was married to Miss Catherine Meehling, daughter of George Meehling, a prominent farmer. Three children were born to them, one son having died in infancy. Two sons are living, Frank of Beaver Dam, Wis., and Elmer of Kansas City, Mo. During all his life Mr. Hedrick has had faith in the future of Newark and never neglected an opportunity to speak a good word for his home town. He has been a member of the Second Presbyterian church for over 30 years.

OFFENSE NOT WITHIN MAYOR'S JURISDICTION

Thomas Dick was arrested Tuesday night on a warrant issued in Mayor Swartz's court, charging him with failure to provide for four children ranging in ages from 9 to 15 years. The warrant was issued on the affidavit of his wife, Anna Dick.

In police court Wednesday morning, Dick entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was bound over to the grand jury. Later he was released because the alleged offense was not committed within the jurisdiction of the mayor's court.

Dick's wife and family have been residing in Pittsburgh, where Dick left them several weeks ago. His wife located him here and endeavored to prosecute in the local courts. As the offense is not extraditable Dick could not be held and there was nothing to do but release the man.
